

Exit at Eagle - Winter Edition

Looking for a basecamp to experience winter in the mountains or affordable dining and lodging for your Vail valley ski trip? Exit at Eagle, CO located just off I-70 Exit 147, between Vail and Glenwood Springs. Eagle offers a multitude of recreational access for winter fun.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

Experience the spectacular views of wintery peaks from Eagle this season. The light snow cover in town, coupled with mild temperatures, make for perfect winter trail adventures. All BLM trails and our town-owned open space trails are open April 15-December 15, yielding about four more months of riding compared to our mountain town neighbors. Town trails such as Boneyard, Redneck Ridge and the two loops of the Haymaker Trail remain open for snowshoeing, winter hiking, trail running, cross country skiing, backcountry skiing, sledding and fat biking.

The Eagle Ranch Golf Course offers a maintained snowshoe and Nordic course. For a more backcountry adventure, head toward Sylvan Lake State Park. The area offers amazing views of the Sawatch, stretching through aspen groves and pine forests. Explore popular trails in the surrounding White River National Forest such West Brush Creek Trail, Sneve Gulch, McKenzie Gulch, Nolan Lake, Lake Charles and Ironedge.

Eagle is also the perfect basecamp for world-class alpine skiing and 10th Mountain hut system access.

And enjoy easy access to signature Colorado hut trips; take in the beauty of this western landscape –exploring the backcountry and skiing untracked powder with access to 10th Mountain Division Huts like: Peter Estin Hut or Polar Star & Seipel Huts. Huts can be booked on line at: <http://www.huts.org/>

Vail and Beaver Creek resorts are within 30 minutes of Eagle, providing some of North America's best skiing and snowboarding. Buses run to both resorts from downtown throughout the day.

Snowmobiling through the open terrain of the surrounding BLM is accessible at multiple parking locations, such as the Yeoman Park Day Use area. Eagle Ice Rink is an NHL size indoor hockey rink open through March. The Western Eagle County Metropolitan Recreation District offers public skating and drop-in hockey all winter. Take some time to pamper yourself at one of Eagle's spas after a long day of enjoying the outdoors. And shop in Eagle's unique boutiques and dine in one of the many downtown restaurants.
